We refer to the advertisement in anothe column of the sale to-day at 4 P. M. of that most elegant mansion, at usted in a retired and somewhat romantic spot, owned and occupied by our young friend P L. Nichol. This lovely retrest, now so well known to our citizens, has been improved to such an extent as to invite others to erect costly buildings in the neighborhood, so that i has soon become a favored spot, and capitalists are turning their attention to this end of the city as a matter of speculation in real estate that is calculated to enhance in value more rapidly than in any portion of the suburbe. An enterprising citizen, Mr. Kane, will expend some $30,000 in Its convenience to the Broad Street Railroad, accessibility and eligibility, are certainly great points in favor of this and of McGavock street. IMPORTANT TO ADVERTIS.

Advertising Medium. In addition to the regular daily issue, we are printing in the Exposition Building an Exposition Edition of the Union AND AMERICAN of TEN THOUSAND corns, which are sent broadcast throughout the city, as well as Davidson and the adjoining counties. All advertisements for the inside pages are printed in both editions, thus giving advertisers greater advantages than were ever offered by a Nashville paper. Advertisements will be inserted on the first page. Business men would do well to take advantage of our large circulation to make themselves known to the visitors to the Exposition, and acquaint them with the inducements they offer. Now is the time

Nashville Library Association. At last we are to have a public library. There is an unmistakeable zeal and perse verance evinced by its projectors which has already secured the success of the enterprise. The constitution is being rapid y signed by our best citizens of every proon, and we urge every man in Nashville to subscribe himself as a member of the Association. Let the matter be disussed everywhere as its merits deserve, and we can soon boast that we have removed a deep reproach from the good name of our city by founding a great public library. A Splendid Engine and Car. We visited yesterday evening the Nash-ville and Chattanooga depot and saw the magnificent car and engine recently turned out and finished at the shops of that road in this city. During the Editorial Excursion of 1860 the fine cars and elegant loco-motives on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad received the encomiums of all. We have seen on nearly all the important railroad in the county, and have, with more than Sarah Scruggs vs. John Boyers and passing interest, examined their fixtures and appointments, and we confess that we have never seen this car and engine surpassed. The engine is made of Tennessee iron, and is called the "Tennessee." Most worthily she vindicates her nomenclature The iron is of the best Hillman, and the manufacture is the best The cab is of ash and walnut, the decora tion fully comporting with the material. On one side of the engine is a painting of Nashville with the stately and Capitel in plain and bold relief. On the other side is a painting of Chattanoogs with old "Lookout" looming up beyond The blending of the colors is adn The painting was done by Mr. Kirkpatrick, a proficient in the use of the brush. The elegant sand box bears for its motto "Agriculture and Commerce," with the glittering stars of the States around it and the proud eagle of the country, with daring crest and undrooped wings, is above it, while its forward beak and undazzled eye say "onward, right onward." The cow-catcher is of alternating ash and walnut timbers. The car is superb. Its capaci y is to seat sixty passenge There are six wheel trucks at each end which gives it the utmost ease of mobility The seats are bottomed with fine red plus with the wood work of the finest material with striped rep for finishings. The trim-mings and adornments are of silver plate work. The flooring is of alternate strips of ash and walnut, and is very attractive The chandeliers in each end are of silver mounting, and are gorgeous. The ventilation, closets and toilet arrangements, are elegant and all that could be desired. The car and engine, all in all, are of the most skillful workmanship, and are creditable to our city and State. The whole turn-out was made to exhibit at the Exposition.

RAILROAD DISCRIMINATION.

Another Leave Needed. The facts and figures below have been furnished us by a merchant in this city, and if they be true, as we believe them to be, not only is another railroad lease needed, but it is desirable that the one now ratified should go into operation as early as possible. To the Editors of the Union and American.

Self-kindling Fires. Two pretty well authenticated instances of spontaneous combustion having lately occurred in the city, it would be well for housekeepers and those in charge of stores and shops to guard, as closely as possible, against the occurrence of fires either from this or other causes. We are not sufficiently familiar with the peculiarities of spontaneous combustion to say what particular degree of heat is necessary to cause it, or what especial combination sterial causes are required to kindle flame where no fire previously existed. Nor do we precisely know whether spontaneous combustion is one of the lost arts or an art which has not yet been distinctly found. Or, to speak the truth still more plainly, we do not surroundings; do not pile goods too closely or shut them up too tightly; do not sleep too soundly when apprehensive of danger, eye open; be in all things prudent, always caim, and ever watchild to prevent spon-taneous combustion or other unavoidable

Andrew J. Fletcher died near Murfress. boro last Friday morning. He was the son-in-law of Hon. E. H. Ewing, and justly regarded as one of the very best citizens He was an enterprizing, successful farmer, and a lover of fine stock, and had done much to advance all the insterial interests of his county. The funeral services were held at the church in that city on Sunday, Rev. F. R. Hill officiating, a vast-concourse of people being present, while one feeling and one sentiment pervaded all hearts— love for his memory and grief that he was love for his memory and grief that he was called away while giving so much promise of usefulness. The grief of his relatives is deep and overwhelming, and yet they grieve not as those who have no hope, as he was a consistent and official number of the Methodist Church, South.

How a Mother Saved Her Child. rom the Knoxville Fress and Herald, May 16. A mother's love is stronger than death and her devotion overcomes difficulties and perils that strong men would shrink from. The following incident narrated to us, last evening, is literally tru', and illustrates a woman's devotion and s mother's courage: Mrs. Moore, wife of Col. W. A. Meore, living near Leadvale, Jefferson county, was at home alone last Friday, when a negro woman came running into the ouse with the information that Mrs. Moore's little son, three years ald, had fallen down the well. Mrs. Moore ran to the well and looked down into it just in time to see her child disappear under the water. Not a man was about the house, her husband being off about a quarter of a mile, but, without a moment's hesitation, the brave lady grasped the well-rope and went down twenty-four feet to the surface of the water, and grappled in its depths, with her feet, for the child. She found him and drew him, with her feet, to the top of the water, then holding on to the rope with one hand, and placing her feet in the crevices of the rock wall, she worked and labored over her babe till he revived and her husband came to her rescue. Pen never wrote a more sublime act of

CITY NOTICES.

We take great pleasure in announcing to the good people of Nashville that on Thursday, the 18th day of May, 1871, at 4 o'clock P. M., we will offer on the prem the rate from Nashville to West Point is ises, some of the most desirable residence property to be found within the city limits. onsisting of Lot No. 122, being 100 fee Addition to Nashville. The same being under good fence, and well set in blue grass and shade trees. Also Lots Nos 123 and 125, fronting 200 feet on Mc Gavock Street, on which is situated the Pelace Home of P. L. Nichol, Esq., being ville to West Point 77 cents. The West a splendid two-story brick, with 12 rooms, Point merchant bought in Louisville at with ample halls, porches all around, with iron veraudahs to each, and all festooned with the vine and the rose, presenting at a single glance the richest combination of lower and fruit. The whole may be brilliantly illuminated by 30 gas jets, supplied by a self generating gas machine; 2 cisterns, one large tank, which holds 10,000 gallons of water; a splendid Artesian Well; magnificent Conservatories, well constructed and lighted with gas, and capable under skillful management, of yielding $5,000 per annum, a large brick kitchen; good stables, with stalls for horses and cows, fine carriage house, with harness room. The entire grounds are tastefully ornamented with the most rare and costly evergreens, shrubbery, flowers and fruits in endless variety. But as it is not in the power of printer's ink to paint the picture, we can only urge upon parties interested the importance of going and seeing for themselves. It is admitted by everybody that West Nashville constitutes the lovliest suburb of the city, and this property is decidedly the loveliest spot in West Nash vill. It is lovely because of its location on McGavock street, just one block from the Broad street railway, consequently free from the noise and dust of a great thoroughfare. It is lovelier because of its surroundings, being in the midst of numerous costly suburban residences, and being rapidly surrounded by the enterprise of our friend Col. Kane, with beautiful cottage homes, which would be an ornament to any city. It is loveliest of all because it is adorned in the brilliant tinted toilet which only art can weave with nature's machinery, thereby presenting to the beholder a picture such as charmed the Wandering Peri at the opening gates of Paradise. It must have been this spo (or on one just like it) which furnished the inspiration of the poet, when he sung: "And I said if there's peace to be found in this world, The heart that is humble might hope for it

And it may be that the fertile fancy Byron mirrored this picture, and that he was vainly attempting to convey some faint conception of its loveliness when he gave to the world that thrilling rhapsody: Know ye the land of the cedar and vine, where the light wings of zephyrs, oppresse with perfume, Wax faint o'er the Gardens of Gul in he Where the citron and olive are fairest of fruit, And the voice of the nightingale never is Where the tints of the earth and the hues of the sky, In color, though varied, in beauty may vie." We will also sell at the same time Time Beautiful Lots at the Corner of Locust and McNairy Streets. We have put this sale at 4 o'clock, be-cause Mr. Nichol will have a sale on the same day of rare plants and flowers, and because it is the best hour for a sale any way-it gives many gentlemen of business the opportunity of attending who could o'clock on Thursday, the 18th inst. New York, May 17.—Dry goods—The spring trade is now about over and the stocks of staple fabrics has not only held their price pretty well, but are sold close up, at least there is no surplus stock to carry. Dress goods in fancy styles however, are being closed out as usual, to-wards the end of the season at reduced figures. Woolen fabrics are not much sought after at present, but light styles adopted wants clothiers possessing any desirability, are selling to a fair extent at good enough prices. Almost certain heavy woolens for the autumn trade will open igher on account of the meagre supply fering, and extreme prices will prevail for raw material. Printing cloths continue firm and the demand is said to exceed the supply, but it is speculative. Among the rich printers, who endeavor once in a while to grind small ones to dust—that cloths can be produced at 5 jc. is beyond doubt, and no print will cost over 4 ccuts to produce, while many will not cost over

2 c; so in any event printers can't very well force up the price of their goods be-yond the present rates. At least if they do sales will drag.

The swell here goes on steadily, but it no longer alarms any one as no fears are entertained that it will be formidable. The upper Ohio and Mississippi are falling and the rise out of the Miscouri cannot be as great as usual as very light snows fell in that region the past winter. The Arkansas at loss report was on a tand, but is probably failing by this time. White river is falling steadily, with good water to all ports.

WAR DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICES WASHINGTON, D. C., May 17, 1871. Probabilities-It is probable that local rains will pass over the middle gulf coast, and a storm of moderate dimensions pass over Georgia and South Carolina. A more extended rain is threatening the Ohio valley and Illinois. Cloudy weather with brisk northeast winds will probably be ex-perienced from Lake Erie to the northvestward. Fresh northwest winds in the
